The screenshot shows the official Canadian Government website for applying for an Electronic Travel Authorization (eTA). At the top, there is the Government of Canada logo and a search bar labeled "Search IRCC". Below the logo is a "MENU" dropdown. The breadcrumb trail reads: Canada.ca > Immigration and citizenship > Visit Canada > Electronic Travel Authorization (eTA). The main heading is "Electronic Travel Authorization (eTA): How to apply". Below this heading are four navigation buttons: "1. About the process", "2. Who can apply", "3. How to apply" (which is highlighted in dark blue), and "4. After you apply". A warning icon (a triangle with an exclamation mark) is followed by the text: "Starting April 1, 2022, pre-entry tests will no longer be required for fully vaccinated travellers entering Canada by land, air or water. Until then, follow the pre-entry test requirements." Below the warning is a language selection menu with options: العربية, Български, 繁體中文, Deutsch, English (selected), Español, Français, Ελληνικά, Italiano, 日本語, 한국어, Magyarul, Nederlands, Polski, Português, Português (Brasil), and Română. At the bottom of the page is a large dark blue button labeled "Apply for an eTA".
